You are quietly looking at a book when your sister comes over and grabs the book out of your hands because she wants to read it.

How would you like to be treated?

You go to the kitchen to get one of your favorite cookies. Your brother runs to the cookie jar, takes the last cookie, and eats it. You are angry.

What will you say or do if you are a peacemaker?

You and your friend are drawing pictures. She teases you for coloring a tree purple. Your feelings are hurt, and you think of a mean name to call her.
